

Dear Student,

The following document is a sample letter. This letter can be used to assist you in finding sponsors to help defer some of the cost associated with the Missouri Youth Leadership Forum (MYLF). Although there are no fees required from students to attend, we encourage you to start gaining leadership skills in your local community by contacting entities that may be interested in sponsoring you to participate in MYLF. Each community will differ in the entities, which have the ability to use their funds in this manner. Typically, your larger stores (Wal-Mart, Lowe's, Staples, etc.), local electric cooperatives, SB40 Boards (see listing) and larger restaurants (McDonald's, Starbucks) have an interest in community programs such as this. Others to include in your mailing could be insurance agents, local small businesses, and family friends. You will need to add the pertinent information into the letter (the parts that are bolded and underlined), print it and send it. Don't be discouraged if you receive a letter stating that they are unable to sponsor you, there will be others that will. And last remember to send a letter after the Missouri Youth Leadership Forum letting them know what you gained from the experience and thanking them for supporting you. This will help to foster a partnership with the community in your future endeavors.

Recipient's name and address

Dear _____ :

I am writing to inform you of an exciting program I am participating in, the Missouri Youth Leadership Forum (MYLF). This is a statewide community partnership of individuals, businesses, and nonprofit and public agencies, which provide leadership training for Missouri high-school students with disabilities. I am writing to invite name of person or company to partner in this effort by supporting my participation in the MYLF.

In it's fourth year, the MYLF is a four-day program that strives to increase self-esteem of young people with disabilities and to develop their sense of responsibility to themselves and others. Through interaction with peers and mentors, the MYLF helps the student delegates establish personal goals, and learn about various supports (such as assistive technology) that will enable them to become full participants in their communities. Student delegates participate in discussions concerning leadership skills as well as issues pertinent to persons with disabilities. Student delegates have the opportunity to share their difficulties associated with having a disability and how those may be overcome. Student delegates also meet adults with disabilities who serve as successful role models and can speak about their achievements in employment and community participation.

I have been accepted to participate in MYLF through an application process, which involved statewide competition to seek students with disabilities who have leadership potential. Each applicant submitted a standard form, essay and three names for references.

The cost for a student delegate to attend the MYLF is $1,000, which covers room and board at the University of Missouri – Columbia, speakers' fees, support staff (including personal assistants), and facility rental. I would appreciate your consideration in helping me to attain my goal of being a successful leader and advocate for people with disabilities.

Sincerely,
